

Cross My Heart © BMI by Dennis J. Barela

When I was younger I could take all the pain
I could shake off the hurt like the rain
I could hold all the clouds in my hand
I could weather all the storms like a man
But you were the one thing who brought this baby down to his knees

(chorus)

Be my weakness, be my best bet
Be the diversion that will make me forget
Be the shelter that will keep out the rain
Be the drug that helps to block out the pain
I'll be anything you need me to be, my desperation's guarantee
And I'll promise to do my part. Cross my heart

I can remember when you caught my eye
I guess you could say you took me by surprise
'Cause up until then my life had been such a mess
But now these days I guess you'd call it blessed
You were the one girl who taught this stumbling blind man to see

(bridge)

So now we're wishing on a shooting star
With tin cans tied to the car
Still our friends can't believe that we've made it this far!

You've shown me a side of me I never knew
'Cause my life has meaning all because of you
We're gonna go through this life together
And I'll love you forever
Now I make this promise begging you please
